

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

THE ORB, THE LINK & THE LIBRARY // PART 1: SANCTUARY'S QUEST

By D.M. Rosewood (Pseudonym)

Newsorthy: The author arranged to have the first manuscripts of The Orb, the Link & the Library flown into space by an extraordinary spaceflight service company and then returned to Earth for publication and for his readers. This is the first time in history that a manuscript has been flown into space prior to publication.

Summary: The Orb, the Link and the Library is an exciting young adult, science fiction, adventure and mystery told in three parts. Propelled by one revelation after another, this suspense-filled story is about sixteen-year-old Anastasia and her engagement with a powerful alien race known as the Visitors. It is an engagement filled with intrigue as Anna attempts to understand the most intelligent race in the known universe and an engagement involving extraordinary change, the human kind and the not so human kind.

Part 1, Sanctuary's Quest is the beginning of Anna's epic journey. Drawn in by the excitement of her discovery of an ancient alien artifact known as the Orb, she experiences the frightening extraterrestrial process of absorption and the extraordinary abilities it brings. She learns from the Orb that she has been chosen by the Visitors to undertake a mysterious quest.

Guided by fate, or something more ominous, Anna discovers the vastly more powerful alien artifact known as the Link. The Link shows her the future of mankind, but it is not a future anyone would want to experience, nor one that anyone is likely to survive. What she learns from the Link and what it does to her changes Anna's life forever as she develops a mysterious and overwhelming confidence to pursue a quest she is absolutely certain she cannot achieve.

Pursued and threatened by the Visitors and by NASA and enticed by the love of her best friend, Anna must overcome the Visitors' manipulation of her thoughts, thoughts so real that it is almost impossible to distinguish her own reality from the fictional reality they create. As Anna fights with the hostile minds attempting to take control of her, she is pulled ever closer to the alien society she struggles to understand—a society that has a hidden message for Earth.

Part 2 of The Orb, the Link and the Library - *The Avalanche Clocks is pending launch.

About D.M. Rosewood: Rosewood is a passionate writer of science fiction and a seasoned creative scientist, engineer and entrepreneur who worked in numerous space and missile programs supporting the Air Force and NASA space launch activities. He holds an MS/Distinguished Graduate from Purdue University and is a graduate of several advanced novel writing workshops through UCLA's writing program. He has an eclectic appetite for everything interesting, having ground a six-inch primary mirror from scratch and used it to build his first telescope at the age of 15. He has sky-dived, scuba-dived, parasailed, been a spelunker, flown a drone, climbed mountains, traveled on the Great Wall of China, flown airplanes and sailed a Flying Dutchman. In his younger years he built a six-foot Tesla coil and a cloud chamber in his basement.

Why Read: Because there is nothing else like it in the world—for the first time in the history of writing, the author launched this manuscript into space and brought it back to Earth for publication and his readers' enjoyment. This is the exciting story of an alien engagement with Earth and the challenges all worlds have in protecting the evolution of their dominant species.
